

Call For Papers!

Research, Teaching and Learning in Education across Birmingham City University: Pedagogy, Practice, Politics and Policy: Where to next in teaching, learning and research in education?

Methods of presenting:

- 10 minute 'lightning talks'
 - Great for new researchers
- 20 minute presentations
 - With a 10 minute Q&A session
- Hour long workshop/symposium
 - Great for interaction!
- Poster
 - A good way to outline research!

We will cover the cost of printing the posters. Please note, we may request to keep some posters to display in the Research Office.

Proposals.

We encourage you to submit a proposal on:

- current research,
- past research or
- future research plans.

The focus areas are:

- researching education,
- public and popular debates in education policy,
- formal and informal lifelong learning pedagogies and
- professional practices in teaching.

Proposals are accepted from staff and student researchers. It is your decision how you would like to present your research.

All submissions should be sent to Rebecca.Snape@bcu.ac.uk by Friday 20th May 2016 along with a photograph for the conference information booklet.

For more information, come along to the research office (A203a) or call 0121 202 4674